EDITOR'S NOTE

The Journal of Modern Turkish History Studies continues examining the Turkish history with this 36. issue. Articles in this issue attempts to analyze various subjects, processes, events and people. Given the conclusive effect of the Contemporary history on present, it can be argued that these articles will help better understand the "actual".

We would like to thank our esteemed academics who assisted by refereeing in the evaluation of the articles of the issue and hope that this new issue will be a contribution to the academia.
